About the Speakers

JED L. MARCUS, ESQ.

Mr. Marcus is a Member who chairs the firm's Labor and Employment Practice Group. Mr. Marcus represents employers throughout the United States on all types of employment and labor relations matters. He is well known for his vigorous and successful representation of employers in employment and labor litigation, including class and collective actions. Mr. Marcus regularly counsels employers on discrimination, wrongful termination, sexual harassment, NLRB matters, wage and hour, and Title VII compliance; conducts investigations into harassment, discrimination, and whistleblower claims; and regularly trains supervisors and employees on labor and employment matters.

CYNTHIA J. BORRELLI, ESQ.

Ms. Borrelli is a Member who directs the firm's Insurance Regulatory practice group. Her practice is concentrated in the area of insurance law, representing insurance companies, insurance producers, managed care entities and third party administrators in their corporate activities and regulatory matters before departments of insurance, and includes mergers and acquisitions as well as insolvency proceedings of regulated corporations. She has developed an expertise in individual health reform, managed care regulation, insurer withdrawal, life insurance, and annuity product development and sales practice issues.

SAMUEL J. THOMAS, ESQ.

Mr. Thomas is a Member who practices insurance premium litigation, insurance coverage litigation, and workers' compensation and related civil litigation. He frequently lectures on his areas of expertise to insurance carriers, private companies, employers and trade organizations. He has authored texts and articles for many seminars.

FRED INFANTE, ESQ.

Mr. Infante is the Regional Director of Human Resources for Bally Total Fitness Corporation. A former agent with the National Labor Relations Board, and a seasoned H.R. professional with thirty years of experience, Mr. Infante is well-positioned to provide thoughtful insight into managing a work force in these challenging times.
