Aware of how changes in the legal and regulatory landscape can impact his clients, David frequently authors articles analyzing proposals and changes to best inform his clients. Of note, David worked closely with Financial Institutions industry leaders to author SIFMA's response to FINRA Regulatory Notice 17-42, which seeks to overhaul the expungement process. He also serves as a guest lecturer at New York Law School's Securities Arbitration Clinic and Alternative Dispute Resolution Arbitration Skills course.

Prior to joining Bressler, David served as a consultant in the hedge fund industry, providing due diligence, operational support and consulting services to hedge funds and funds-of-funds. From 2000-2006, he served as Director of Kroll Associates' Vendor Integrity Division, helping many Fortune 500 companies mitigate business risk. David's prior experience also includes prosecuting financial crimes at the Brooklyn District Attorney's Office and investigating/prosecuting securities law violations at the New York Stock Exchange Enforcement Division (now FINRA). A graduate of Cornell University and New York Law School, David served as Executive Case Comment Editor of the New York Law School Law Review.
