Lauren Fenton-Valdivia is a principal in the firm's Litigation department and is Chair of the firm's Diversity & Inclusion Committee. Lauren has a diverse litigation practice and routinely represents corporate clients in state and federal court. Lauren has experience handling a variety of complex litigation, including commercial disputes, employment litigation, professional liability and environmental matters. Lauren has experience in all stages of litigation, including handling complex written discovery, fact and expert depositions, and the oral argument of high stakes motions. Lauren has further served as trial counsel for numerous corporate clients in state and federal court, trying cases to verdict, and in various arbitration proceedings. Lauren also has experience in large scale, multi-district class action matters.

Lauren strives to understand her clients' business models and goals and integrate them into all facets of her legal strategy and defense. To that end, Lauren's litigation practice is complimented by her work counseling corporate clients on employment and regulatory matters. Lauren is admitted to practice in Florida, New Jersey and New York and the United States District Courts for the Middle and Southern Districts of Florida, the District of New Jersey, the Northern, Southern and Eastern Districts of New York and the Northern District of Ohio.

Lauren served as Law Clerk to the Honorable Thomas M. Moore, J.S.C., at the trial court level where her love of litigation and trial work first took hold. Lauren received her B.A., cum laude, in Political Science from Rutgers University, Rutgers College in 2008, where she was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Sigma Iota. At Rutgers, Lauren was a Henry Rutgers and Carr Scholar and a member of the Honors Thesis Program, which Thesis was completed while Lauren worked full-time. Lauren received her J.D. from Seton Hall University School of Law in 2011. At Seton Hall, Lauren was a Presidential Scholar, Dorothy Day Scholar, and a student lawyer in the Civil Litigation Clinic.
