Susan A. Logsdon is a Counsel in the Financial institutions Group at Bressler. Susan handles litigation, arbitration, regulatory matters, and appeals. Susan's practice focuses on representing brokerage firms and individuals in securities related matters before federal and state courts, state regulators, self-regulatory organizations, and in FINRA arbitrations. Susan also has substantial experience representing financial firms and corporate clients in a broad variety of litigation matters in the areas of business torts and contracts, employment law, probate and family law, bankruptcy, energy, admiralty, and insurance.

Before joining the firm, Susan served as Counsel for Fulbright & Jaworski, LLP, in the commercial litigation section where she focused on large complex cases including class actions, and anti-trust and competition cases. She was also formerly employed with the litigation firm of Hill, Rivkins & Hayden, LLP where she gained extensive experience in the federal courts working on a variety of maritime related matters. Susan is admitted to practice in the Texas state courts and U.S. District Courts for the Southern and Northern Districts of Texas.

A native of Texas, Susan received her B.A. degree in Psychology from the University of Texas, and her J.D. degree from the University of Houston Law Center.
